Black Diamond

We Remember E. W. Fannon —

We dedicate the 1957 Black Diamond to the man who has done more for Centerville and has meant more to the Centerville schools than any other individual - Everett William Fannon. In doing so, we seek to honor a man who began his teaching career in a one-room rural schoolhouse and went on to become the dean of Iowa superintendents. After heading Centerville schools for 34 years and being principal of the high school for five years before that, Mr. Fannon plans to retire in August, 1957.

Recently honored as the oldest superintendent in Iowa serving the same school district and recipient of the distinguished service alumni award from Drake University, Mr. Fannon was born in 1889 in Eldora, Iowa. He attended high school there and then received his B. A. degree from Drake. He has done post-graduate work at the Universities of Iowa, Chicago, and Drake.

Before coming to Centerville in 1918, Mr. Fannon toured the country for three years as a chautauqua and lyceum singer, then was superintendent of schools at Liscomb, Iowa. He has served twice as vice president of the Iowa State Teachers Association, has been an active member of Rotary and other service groups in Centerville. He was president of the country club and five times city golf champion. A long-time member of the Presbyterian church, for 22 years he was choir director. He has also been chairman of civic music here.

Mr. Fannon met Mrs. Fannon, then Bessie Mae Tatham, while both were students at Drake. They were married in 1914. A graduate of the Fine Arts College, Mrs. Fannon taught art before coming to Centerville. Here she has been an active member of the Outlook and Women's clubs, P.E.O., and the Presbyterian church.

The Fannons have a daughter and three grandchildren, all of Crawfordsville, Ind. Two sons died. The daughter, Muriel, is now Mrs. John Brock and teaches kindergarten in Indiana.

The 1957 Black Diamond

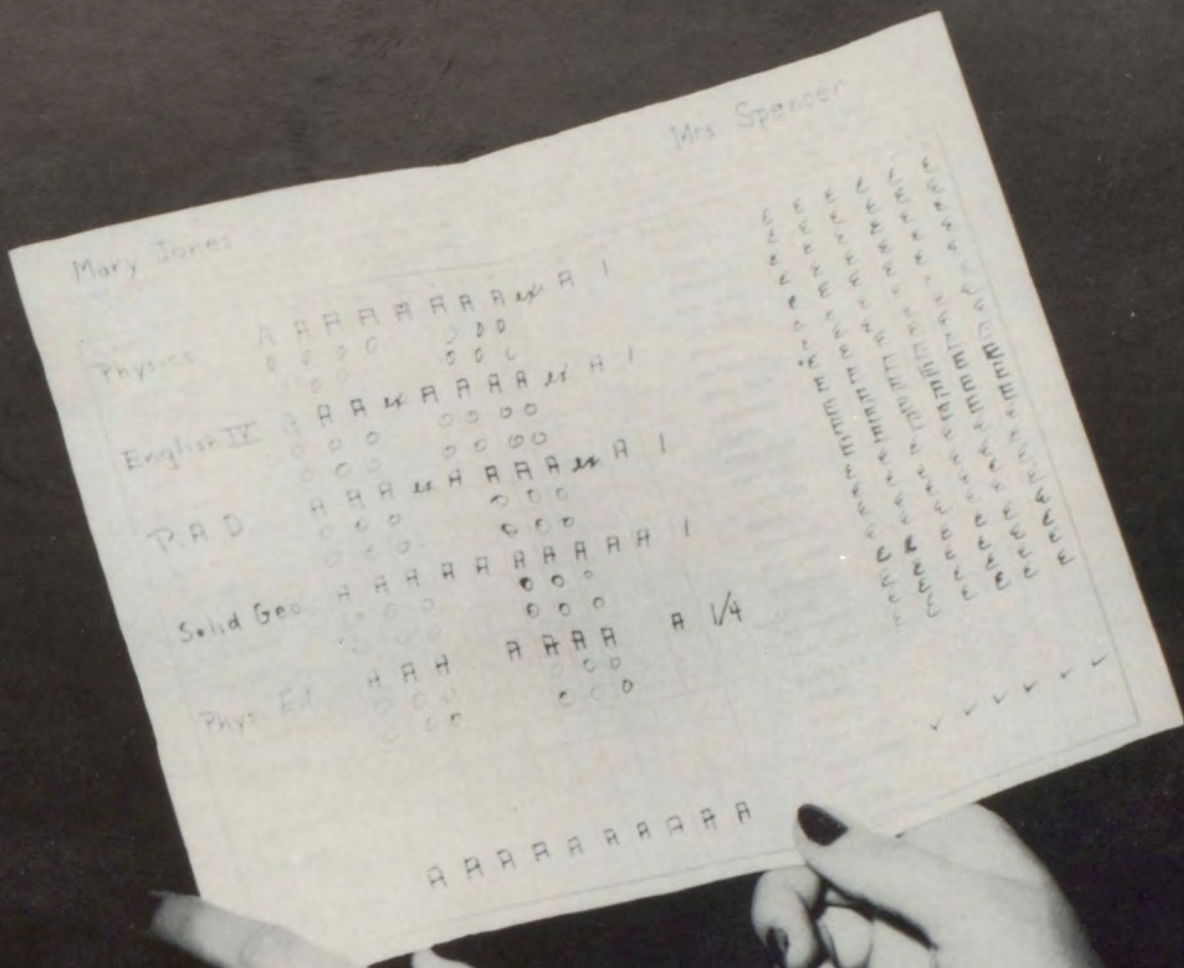

What you do with your life may well be reflected in what you do with your hands. The artist has talented, creative hands; the workman has strong, powerful hands; the man whose life is filled with reverence has hands folded in prayer; your closest friend has hands outstretched to help you. Because of their symbolic importance, we have chosen "hands" for the theme of the 1957 Black Diamond. Through the book hands will point the way to memories of your school year.

A Word from the Superintendent:

I take great pride in Centerville High! It has been a great democratic institution. It has been a major instrument in our community for bringing together all of the children of all of the people and for helping each to take his place as a contributing member of our democratic enterprise.

In nearly forty years of very close connection with Centerville High, I have seen the school grow in perspective and creation. There has been a steady growth in the offerings to meet the needs of a changing world. May it never become static but always mobile and continue to serve as it has for eighty years. On CHS!

E. W. FANNON

A Word From the Principal:

CARL T. MILES

As individuals we should expect returns from our education harmonious with the thought, time, self-discipline, and energy we put into it during the days of formal schooling and during the period of growth and habit-fixing which follows schooldays.

Our hearts and our minds should now be dedicated to an honorable and satisfying philosophy of life and to suitable fields of work. The foundation lies in the ability to think problems through on one's own initiative, and to learn how to make constructive use of one's abilities and opportunities.

How is your foundation?

1957 Seniors

Seniors think election news is pretty neat.

Seniors Say, "The Last Day"

A freshman class is like the baby New Year, full of big ideas for the future, but not quite dry behind the ears. And yet - like the New Year - a high school class does grow up over a period of time.

When the class of '57 began the senior year, Gary Williams, Otis Seals, Dorothy Walker, and Phil Anders were chosen as officers. The sponsors were Mr. Richard Bunting, Mrs. Alison Escher, Mrs. Lillian Howry, Mr. Joe Nelson, and Miss Hulda Stomberg. Money for senior activities was raised by a banking plan where each senior had his own savings account.

Then along towards the end of the year, the class began to age. As seniors, the members of the class of '57 felt as old as Father Time. They were ready to look back on their school years - remembering.

As one senior said, "As you think of Commencement Day, when you march down to receive the long-sought diploma, you feel a thrill of pride... and still something tugs at your heart, a lump comes in your throat, and a tear in your eye; for with the passing of that day, the class of '57 becomes a part of the past and the joys of high school are over."

DOROTHY ADAMS

Juniors

Officers and Sponsors

Larsen, Bailey, Bryant, Staley Working Daily

Upon their return to good old CHS last fall the juniors felt quite at home. Entering their third year of high school they decided to act like upperclassmen. They entered enthusiastically into school activities and several won scholastic honors, including membership in Honor Society. Juniors also showed interest in dramatics, music, sports, and other organizations.

Hound Dog Elected

Following a close election between the Farsighted Forerunners, the Hound Dogs, and the Independents, Dick Larsen, a Hound Dog candidate, was elected junior class president. Other officers included Billy Joe Bailey, vice President; Kathryn Bryant, secretary, and Ronnie Staley, treasurer.

Juniors Give Prom

Sophomores

Officers and Sponsors

The students who started their high school days as bewildered freshmen not very long ago blossomed into seasoned veterans of CHS this year. Yes, the sophomore class, under the guidance of Miss Edith Clark, Mr. Bill Cummings, Mr. C. J. Hart, and Mr. Clinton Smith, grew out of its babyhood.

In the fall election of officers, three parties fought a heated battle. The Sophomore Tribunes won over the Sodalitas and the SNSS parties. As a result, Lyle Linder, Bob Thomas, Kathy Klum and Carolyn Johnson ruled the class.

The sophomores filled their treasury with dues in preparation for the junior prom and the senior activities that are ahead. They gave the Freshman-Sophomore mixer and also started the Scott Fund to help a classmate.

Freshmen

It always takes a while for freshmen to get used to a new school and for the school to get used to the freshmen. . . but it all starts at CHS on Orientation Day. After that, the new students begin to find out that the teachers are really pretty nice persons to know and that even the upperclassmen are human part of the time.

This year's freshman class chose as their officers: Steve Greenleaf, president; Patsy Walker, secretary; Marilyn Mitchell, treasurer. Their sponsors were Miss Mildred Christenson, Miss Jean Foot, Miss Ethel Linden, Mr. Don Henneger, and Mr. Robert Wharton.

Led by their officers and pushed by their sponsors, they organized themselves into an active class. To raise money they decided to collect dues from each member rather than use an organized project. They danced at the fourth annual Freshman-Sophomore mixer in the fall and had a skating party and a picnic in the spring. Even the upper-classmen have to admit that the class of 1960 has made a good start and can look forward to three more happy years.

ACTIVITIES

Students In Art Do Their Part

The "Do-It-Yourself" craze has come to CHS. It hit the art club like a bomb. Not only did art club members spend the year on their own pet projects, they helped everyone else, too. They worked on the mural in the vocal music room, the mural at the Center, posters for pep club, the band, and the school plays.

The club exhibited pictures by high school and college art students at the Drake Library. On the social side, members had a party at Christmas time.

Art club officers are elected at the end of the first semester. They take office in the spring and continue through the fall of the next school year. The club is sponsored by Mr. Richard Leuhrman.

Black Diamond

Staff Members Have a Job

The 1957 Black Diamond was created by nineteen CHS students who spent the entire school year gathering information, writing copy, taking pictures, making lay-outs, and organizing the material. It was the second year on the staff for Bob Auld, Larry Crowell, and Joyce McConville. Mrs. Alison Escher was the advisor.

The year was highlighted by the annual Black Diamond dance with the crowning of the king and queen and their attendants and escorts.

Cadettes Smile All the While

The Centerville Cadettes were recognized this year as one of the finest marching groups in the Midwest. They performed at the Lions' Convention in Waterloo, where they appeared on KWWL-TV. They marched at the National Jaycee Convention in Kansas City, where they received a first place rating and trophy for marching groups. They also marched at the Yankee-Athletic baseball game, the Miss Universe parade, the Iowa State-Colorado football game, the Grinnell College basketball clinic, as well as the CHS Homecoming game and the annual Pancake Day parade.

The Cadettes were under the direction of Mrs. Marilyn Jo Houser. They performed their drum routines and record pantomimes in groups of 16 and 24. They also acted as a rhythm choir in presenting "The Lord's Prayer."

Cheerleaders

The school spirit of every school is reflected in its cheerleaders - and the girls who represented CHS in leading yells this year were the picture of enthusiasm. They made a PRETTY picture, too, in their new uniforms.

They wore red V-neck sweaters and black bermuda shorts during football season and black corduroy circular skirts with red sweaters during basketball season.

The perky girls behind the smiles were Pat Sanders, Dixie Exline, Judy McDanolds, Pat Van Camp, Suzanne Stuber, and Michele Wehrle. Sandy Herman was the substitute. Mrs. Marilyn Jo Houser sponsored the cheerleaders.

Bill Stark Shows That He Is Able

The Driver's Club at CHS was reorganized this school year with William Baretich, driver training teacher, being sponsor of the organization. The programs at the meetings of the club have been successful in creating better understanding between adults and teen-age drivers. The organization has worked on various projects this year, the annual Driver's Club Road-e-o being one of them. The club sponsored a member for this year.

Future Farmers of America

During the past school year the activities of the Future Farmers of America included county and state fair exhibits, participation in a soil judging contest, the regional grain contest at Knoxville, and a pest control contest with Corydon, where the local chapter won a chili supper.

Other projects included the responsibility of a forty acre farm and popcorn sales which paid off the debt on the F. F. A. popcorn machine.

The group nominated three candidates for the state farmer degree and delegates attended the state convention at Cedar Rapids April 25-27.

The F. F. A. officers were David Scurlock, president; Gary Biles, vice president; Ronald Brinegar, secretary; Ronald Robertson, treasurer; Dick Strickler, reporter; Wayne Sheston, sentinel; and Mr. William Cummings, advisor.

The Future Homemakers started a new year with the District meeting at Corydon. Carol Bradleys was elected District President.

The theme for the Future Homemakers was "People in Other Lands." The purpose of the organization is to further the members interest in home economics. Those girls that join F. H. A. must have one year of homemaking in high school.

Future Nurses

The Future Nurses Club is one of the newest groups in CHS. It was organized in 1954 and now has twenty-five members. Any girl interested in any phase of medicine is entitled to join. During the year the group toured the hospitals throughout the state. Four girls attended the State (Future) Nurses Convention in Des Moines.

Officers Meet Scene Complete

Mrs. E. A. Larsen and Miss Ann Olson, school nurse, are sponsors for the club.

In Honor Society

The CHS chapter of the National Honor Society tries to create an interest in scholarship and rewards those who have shown qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, and service by membership in the organization.

The Honor Society chapel at the beginning of the school year included the initiation of new members. The main project for the organization was to promote the March of Dimes. In the spring, the juniors gave a banquet for the graduating seniors.

Sponsors for the Honor Society were Miss Hulda Stomberg, Miss Edith Clark, and Mr. Horace Fuller.

Librarians

The Librarian's Club had another enjoyable year, while still rendering their service to the school. The monthly meetings of the club include discussions on means of improving library service, librarianship, as a career, quizzes, contests, and book reviews.

The membership is divided into three committees - the program committee, the public relations committee, and the social committee.

This year the CHS students, interested in the study of mathematics, together with Robert Taylor, high school math instructor, formed the Euclidean Club. This club affords its members an opportunity to study, read, and talk about mathematical information which cannot be covered in the mathematics classes because of the limited class time.

One of the goals of the Euclidean Club is to interest students of CHS in the study of mathematics and to encourage them to enter that field of study. The members visited the freshman math classes giving talks about higher mathematics and telling the students on what ways the study of mathematics is a background for various professions of today.

The Euclidean Club members plan to do bigger things next year both in adding to membership and in having more activities.

Pep Club

The newly reorganized Pep Club made considerable progress this year under the leadership of its officers, Jane Minier, president; Peggy Van Camp, vice president; Barbara Buban, secretary; Linda Swab, Corresponding secretary; and Karen Simmons, treasurer. Through candy sales at school the group financed two out-of-town trips.

The Club also enjoyed a co-operative supper with the basketball team followed by games in the gymnasium.

Consisting of about 100 girls from the Physical Education classes this club has become an active school function.

The Student Council is the governing body of C. H. S. It is composed of a member from each of the homerooms and from each organization of C. H. S. Each member is elected at the first of the year in the homeroom.

This year they sponsored the Homecoming dance and the chapel which high-lighted the crowning of the Queen and her attendants. To make money they sold Homecoming dance tickets, shakers, and Indian head-bands.

Council Sponsors Selling Candy

At basketball games they checked wraps, and sold candy and cokes. In the Fall delegates were sent to the State convention at Ames.

The officers for the year were Paul Scurlock, president; Sam Bowen, vice president; Joyce McConville, secretary; and Suzanne Stuber, treasurer.

Mrs. Lillian Howry and Joe Nelson acted as advisors for the group.

Student Iowegian Prints the News

The Student Iowegian, a weekly paper, brings school news to the students as well as to the community. It is written and edited by junior English students who have an interest in journalism. The paper is printed in the Centerville Iowegian each Wednesday evening.

During the past year, the staff met fourth hour every day to plan and write the paper. They were under the guidance of Miss Hulda Stomberg. The paper included news from classes and clubs, sports news, feature articles about students and teachers, and a human interest column called Tidbits. A new feature this year was having a "question of the week" which gave CHS-ers a chance to express their views on current events.

Youth Council

The Youth Council, directed by Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Wright, brings entertainment and recreation to the CHS students and other youths in this area through the Community Center.

Among the many activities sponsored by the Youth Council were dances held after football and basketball games and a New Year's party. The council is also responsible for making rules, managing the Center, and keeping it in good condition.

The officers are Judy Wood, president; Jim VanNoy, first vice president; Kathy Klum, second vice president; Judy Coulter, secretary; and Barbara Buban, treasurer.

Y-Teen Chapel for Thanksgiving

Y-Teens is a social organization for high school girls sponsored by the YWCA. Miss Jean Foot is in charge of the CHS Y-Teen group. Officers for the past year were Kathryn Bryant, president; Linda Swab, vice president; Linda Cathcart, secretary; and Sharon Snodgrass, treasurer.

The Y-Teen girls met once a month for a picnic, a cake-decorating demonstration, or a planning session for a project. One project was giving the annual Thanksgiving Chapel. The Y-Teens also gave a dance, "The Sweetheart Swirl," in February.

Health Program of Centerville Schools

In 1942 Superintendent E. W. Fannon initiated an over-all change in Centerville's physical education program. It was Mr. Fannon's belief that better health might be had from more active exercise. Today there are approximately 385 C. H. S. students in gym classes in addition to the students participating in athletics and cadette drill. Five teachers are employed as class supervisors. The gym classes have a well-balanced program including such sports as swimming, volleyball, dancing, tumbling, and basketball.

Physical examinations have been given every fall since this program began, and Mantoux tuberculin tests were given this year. More than 200 freshmen, new students, and athletes took part in the annual physicals.

Mantoux tests were given to 1,096 grade and high school students. The 95 positive reactors were given chest x-rays at the hospital and the report went to the family physician. These tests were made available to all students whose parents signed for it. This was a county wide program, sponsored and financed by the Appanoose County Christmas Seal fund under the supervision of the County Medical Society. In the high school a day was given to the sale of Christmas Seals.

Dr. Hickman and Miss Olson, school nurse, give Mantoux tests.

Band

The band started this school year off with a bang by marching at the half time of our home football games and the Knoxville Jamboree. The band also marched in parades, furnished music for pep chapels and basketball games, and provided entertainment for private organizations. Eleven band members qualified for All-State and held high positions. The band gave a number of concerts; some of which were: The Christmas Concert; the two Pops Concerts, and the March Concert. The main thing in the lives of all band members this year was their new uniforms for which they had worked long and hard.

Vocal Music

The vocal music department, under the direction of Mr. Don Gunderson, completed another successful year by giving the annual Christmas and Spring concerts.

Small music groups took part in many community gatherings and also went to the State Contest at Fairfield. The Girls' Glee Club sang at Baccalaureate and the Chapel Choir sang at Commencement, as well as competing in the state contest that was held in Centerville. The Chapel Choir wore new red robes with white stoles.

Eight students went to Des Moines during Thanksgiving vacation to participate in All-State Chorus.

Judy Broshar and Judy VanNoy were the vocal music accompanists.

Football

During 1956-57 Centerville's football team had an above average season. After getting off to a slow start by losing to Chariton 32-0, they bounced back and ended up with a 5-3-1 record. Centerville, however, beat Chariton 6-0 in their quarter at the Jamboree in Knoxville.

Leading scorer, Joe Kovacevich, racked up 68 points always battering out substantial gains, and Larry Crowell led the team in passing. Open field running was provided by halfbacks Scurlock, Davis, and sophomore Bob Thomas. Dick Bunting, the Big Reds coach, installed both the T and the single wing, alternating them according to the defense. Providing the blocking for these offenses were senior linemen: Condra, Buttell, Irwin, Chebuhar, Vidmar, and Brinegar.

The co-captains for the Big Reds this year were two outstanding linemen. Duane Condra, playing center for the Reds, was named to the first string all-conference team; Vidmar and Kovacevich made the second team.

Big Reds

A Look at the Varsity

A squad of 15 boys, 5 seniors, 10 juniors, were carried on the varsity team this year. Sharing most of the playing this season were: Centers: Larsen and Wells, Forwards: Brooks, Bailey, Connor and Hindley, Guards: Crowell, Scurlock and Davis. Because of a lack of size, only one man over six feet, and a fair amount of speed, a double offense was installed this fall, trying to make use of the over all team speed and shooting ability. Against a zone defense the team used a 1-3-1, as well as an over loaded offense, always taking advantage of every chance for a fast break.

Defensively the team used a wide assortment of defenses, relying on 1-2-2 zone and switching man to man. At times 1-3-1 and 2-1-2 zones were used as well as zone press and man to man press.

With only two returning lettermen, Paul Scurlock and Larry Crowell, a rebuilding program was in order. At various times 9 of the 15 men have had starting assignments, a situation which makes the future look bright for the Big Reds.

Dick Larsen's jump shot clicks for two points.

Terry Connor slips loose underneath the basket for two points.

Jumping Paul Scurlock ties up rebound with two taller opponents, while Larry Crowell looks on.

Little Reds

"More, More — Raise the Score"

The Little Reds enjoyed an exceptional season this year. They had speed, height, and a keen shooting eye. Paced by sophomore, Gary Allen and freshman Steve Greenleaf and Danny Kadel, they compiled a 10-2 record more than half way through the season. Allen scored as high as 30 points in one game this season. Others seeing much action were Harry Butler, Lyle Linder, Rex Brown, Bob Harbour, Dale Barger and Bob Thomas.

Coach Jerome, although adding some twists of his own, used the same basic offense as the varsity. He stuck mainly to a man to man defense although using a zone defense occasionally. Many of the Little Reds should be ready for varsity duty next year.

Swing, Ching!

The lettermen returning to the Centerville Golf Team this year were seniors, Jim Rosenbaum and Richard Woodin, and juniors, Terry Connor and Dick Larsen. The teams suffered a severe blow when veteran golfer, Cliff Fullhart, moved away after the football season. However, Steve Greenleaf, Bill Bailey and John Farrington helped take up some of the slack.

In Closing . . .

Mr. Fannon, we, the students of CHS, realize that we are losing the man who has practically built the Centerville schools. We have seen you every day - strolling the lower hall, watching the students. You are a man who commands respect, a man who has spent a lifetime making a finer place for people like us to get an education and helping us prepare for the day when we will be on our own. You are a man who has brought many honors to Centerville, a man to whom the whole community can point to with pride. In thanking you for the work and effort you've put forth for us through the years, we wish you well in whatever you may choose to do in the future. Farewell!

Thanks for All Your Help in Posing

I would like to say "Thank You" to Mr. Fannon, Mr. Miles, the faculty, the yearbook staff, the student body, and everyone concerned with making the 1957 BLACK DIAMOND one of the finest yearbooks.

A special word of thanks goes to Mrs. Escher, who devoted much of her time and patience.

Bob Auld, Editor-in-chief

Latin Club Has Roman Banquet

There was a flourish of trumpets as the long parade of Romans bearing lighted candles moved along the halls of Center-ville High to the banquet hall. The honored guests, wearing togas, were second year Latin students. The slaves, first year Latin students, wore tunics. It was the ides of March.

The slaves attended the guests, served them and entertained them.

A play entitled "Somnium" was performed, following by dancing girls and music.

A gladiatorial combat was also held for the honored guests.

Lyle Linder and Suzanne Stuber were master and mistress of ceremonies. "Cena est paratus" announced a slave, and dinner was brought in. "Ecce bovem," and the guests beheld the beef.

Next year the slaves will be the honored guests.

The sponsor of the festivities was Mildred Christensen, Latin teacher and librarian, whose tragic death in a traffic accident May 6 shocked the school and stunned her Latin classes. She will be remembered for her kindly manner and gentle ways. She preferred southern Iowa for her home and is buried in a cemetery near Numa.

Peggy Baker, Terry Connor Are Black Diamond Royalty

At the annual Black Diamond dance held Friday evening, March 29, in the high school gym, Terry Connor and Peggy Baker were crowned Black Diamond king and queen.

Crowning the king and queen and their attendants and escorts were last year's king and queen, Betty Fox and Joe Walker.

Five boys and five girls were chosen by popular vote. From this group of ten the king and queen were selected.

One of the two judges who picked the king and queen was Martha Barnes, who was Miss Iowa '56.

Jack Close was master of ceremonies, presented by Mrs. Escher, yearbook sponsor, who welcomed the guests.

Carroll Norris and Diane Holland, sophomores, were the pages who carried the crowns and flowers.

Black Diamond Attendants and Escorts

The other judge along with Miss Barness was Kenny Ploen, football star of the University of Iowa, who chose the queen for the Black Diamond dance.

Prior to the crowning the High School Girls Sextette sang: Debbie Noland, Judy Van Noy, Donna Perkins, Linda Strandberg, Nancy Miles, Joyce Bradley, accompanied by Betty Smith.

The musical "Black Diamonds" composed of Don Stark, Bill Stark, Wendell Shepherd, Steve Greenleaf, and Sam Bowen also performed.

The backdrop for the coronation stage was an immense diamond of glistening turquoise. The coronation chairs had black diamond backs. Spotlights supplied the illumination.

Kenny Ploen,

Peggy Baker

King Terry and Queen Peggy with their attendants and escorts lead the Coronation dance.

Sea, Sand and Seniors Are Top Concern

Juniors working on the Prom build a castle of coral and light it up. Myriads of fish swim gaily in and out through the coral archways. The band, like a musical pearl, rests in the jaws of a huge pink clam.

R. McDanolds, Mr. Leuhrman, R. Guzzi, B. Buban, on the ladder, and M. Aiello hang a golden fish-net from the sky. Lighting effects are superb.

Beth Lindsay's ideas made possible the creation of this undersea fantasy.

There is a problem about an anchor that is right here and not aweigh. Shall it be tipped a trifle or be bolt upright? Father Neptune is puzzled about a few things, too. Smiley McVeigh, Kathryn Bryant, Dick Larsen, Judy Broshar, Terry Connor, Ronny Staley, Margaret Aiello, Rosemary Guzzi are pondering their problems.

Jim Ellis, Don McVeigh, and Roger McDaniels let an octopus slink by.

There are juniors and juniors. Mark Kelly's little daughters are helping Mary Ann Loar and Anneta Printy.

Judy Coulter, Karen Jensen, Judy Broshar, and Sue Pullman are the muralists.

Coronation

Photographing ghosts is tricky business, but our camera caught these off guard between acts playing a game of cards.

"Nawncy, it's your play," says the one in the wig. Nancy is not really a ghost, only an affiliate. Her fiance, Parker, was not a ghost either, but he palled around with Irv, the one in the fur cap, as if they were old buddies of Pre-Revolutionary days. If you look closely you will see Parker a little to the right of his boutonniere.
